GENERAL DUTIES

9. Due to the nature, size, structure and operational requirements of your duties, you will be expected to perform general and other duties from time to time which might not be specifically mentioned herein, although such duties will be relative to the nature of the Company's business. You are required to perform such work as may be assigned to you from time to time, to the best of your abilities and to be flexible in relation to changes to your functions that may be required, from time to time. In general, however, you must:
 - 9.1. comply with instructions and directions of the Company or any person on its behalf;
 - 9.2. not, without the Company's prior written consent, whether as proprietor, partner, director, shareholder, member, employee, consultant, contractor, financier, agent, representative, assistant, trustee or beneficiary of a trust or otherwise, and whether for reward or not, directly or indirectly be interested or engaged in or concerned with or employed by any business, trade, undertaking or concern other than that of the Company and any Group Company(ies);
 - 9.3. use your utmost endeavours to protect and promote the business and interests of the Company and to preserve its reputation and goodwill;
 - 9.4. be true and faithful to the Company in all dealings and transactions whatsoever relating to its business and interests;
 - 9.5. use the assets of the Company entrusted to you with the utmost care;
 - 9.6. submit to the Company or any person on its behalf such information and reports as may be required of you in connection with the performance of your duties and functions under this contract of employment; and
 - 9.7. disclose to the Company, without delay, all acts and omissions which constitute a breach by you or any other employee of obligations to the Company arising from any cause.

HOURS OF WORK

10. Your ordinary hours of work shall be from 08h00 to 17h00, Mondays to Thursdays and from 08h00 to 14h30 on Fridays. Your lunch break will be for half-an-hour daily from 12h00 to 12h30, and tea breaks will be from 10h00 to 10h15 and 15h00 to 15h15.
11. The above ordinary hours may be amended from time to time by the Company where its operational requirements necessitate this.
12. You may be required to work additional hours from time to time, as are necessary for the proper performance of your duties.

21. Family Responsibility Leave

- 21.1. You shall be entitled to 3 days paid family responsibility leave per annum, providing you have been employed with the Company for longer than 4 months and you normally work at least 4 days a week.
- 21.2. Family responsibility leave shall only be granted when:
- Your child is sick; or
 - Your spouse or life partner dies; or
 - Your parent, adopted parent, grandparents, child, adopted child, grandchild, or sibling dies.

22. Maternity Leave

- 22.1. According to the Basic Conditions of Employment Act, No 75 of 1997 including all related amendments, female employees are entitled to 4 (four) consecutive months' unpaid maternity leave. The Company has additional provisions as stipulated within the Leave Policy as amended from time to time.

23. Parental/Paternity Leave

- 23.1. According to the Basic Conditions of Employment Act, No 75 of 1997 including all related amendments, an employee, who is a parent of a child, is entitled to at least 10 (ten) consecutive days' unpaid parental/paternity leave, when the employee's child is born, or adoption order is granted; or the child is placed in the care of a prospective adoptive parent by a competent court, pending the finalization of an adoptive order.
- 23.2. An employee may commence parental/paternity on:
- The day that the employee child is born;
 - The date that the adoption order is granted;
- 23.3. An employee must notify the employer in writing of the date on which the employee intends to commence parental/paternity leave and return to work after parental/paternity leave. The Company has additional provisions as stipulated within the Leave Policy as amended from time to time.

24. Adoption Leave

- 24.1. According to the Basic Conditions of Employment Act, No 75 of 1997 including all related amendments, an employee who is the adoptive parent of a child who is below the age of 2 (two) years, is entitled to at least 10 (ten) weeks' consecutive adoptive unpaid leave; or 10 (ten) consecutive days' parental unpaid leave (see clause above) when adoption is

OTHER WORK & CONFLICT OF INTEREST

29. During your employment with the Company, you may not, without the prior written consent of the Company, be in any way engaged or concerned in any other trade or business of whatsoever nature either alone or with or on behalf of any other person. Without in any way limiting the generality of the foregoing, during your employment you may not without the prior written consent of the Company be involved in any interests of whatsoever nature that constitute or could constitute a conflict of interest between you and the Company or any of the Group Company(ies). In the event of such a conflict of interest arising, you hereby undertake to disclose such interest to the Company forthwith and to seek the written approval of the Company in relation thereto.

COMMUNICATIONS

30. It is specifically recorded that you expressly give the Company permission to intercept, monitor, read, filter, block or act upon any of your direct, indirect or electronic communications to which you are a party and:

- 30.1. which occur wholly or partly at the Company's premises and/or on the Company's time; or
- 30.2. which involve wholly or partly the use of property and/or facilities owned by or used for the Company's business; or
- 30.3. which related to the Company's business.

PERSONAL INFORMATION

31. You hereby acknowledge that it is necessary and/or reasonable for the Company to process your personal information and/or special personal information as defined by the Protection of Personal Information Act.

32. You accordingly consent to the Company processing your personal information and special personal information for business purposes. Consequently, the Company may:

- 32.1. amongst other things, receive, record, store, update, alter and disseminate your personal information and/or any special personal information, within reasonability;
- 32.2. Collect your personal information and/or special personal information from any source whatsoever;
- 32.3. Retain records of the personal information and/or special personal information process for a period of 3 (three) years.
- 32.4. Where it may be deemed necessary or reasonable by the Company to further process your personal information and/or special personal information or transfer such information to another group Company or another Company affiliated to the Company, situated within

CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

39. In performing your duties and functions with the Company, you will have access to non-public information or materials describing or relating to the Company, its learners and/or third parties to whom the Company has a duty of confidentiality ("Third Parties") including, but not limited to: materials describing or relating to the business affairs, processes, trade secrets, client lists, trade connections, policies and/or procedures of the Company, its learners, and/or the Third Parties; formulae, strategies, methods, processes, computer materials (including, but not limited to, source or object codes, data files, computer listings, computer programs and other computer materials regardless of the medium in which they are stored), information pertaining to the remuneration or personal records and details of any of the Company's present, past or prospective employees and/or other confidential information of the Company, its learners, and/or the Third Parties ("Confidential Information").
40. With respect to such Confidential Information, you agree that during your employment by the Company and thereafter in perpetuity, regardless of the reason for the termination of your employment, you shall:
- 40.1. use the Confidential Information exclusively in connection with the performance of your duties and functions by the Company;
 - 40.2. hold the Confidential Information in strict confidence and will not, nor will you permit any other person to, copy, reproduce, sell, assign, license, market, transfer or otherwise dispose of, give and/or disclose the Confidential Information to any unauthorised person;
 - 40.3. Take all reasonable steps to minimise the risk of disclosure of the Confidential Information to unauthorised persons, and to ensure the proper and secure storage of any such Confidential Information;
 - 40.4. not copy, remove and/or erase such Confidential Information (including, but not limited to, source or object codes, data files, computer listings, computer programs and other computer materials regardless of the medium in which they are stored) whether stored on your desktop, laptop, palmtop or any other computer, and whether such computer is allocated to you by the Company or owned by you personally; and
 - 40.5. not use for your own benefit or for the benefit of any other person or divulge or communicate to any person or persons, except to those officials of the Company whose area it is to know same, any of the Company's secrets or any other Confidential Information which you may receive or obtain in relation to the Company's affairs or those of its learners.
41. If you have any doubt whether, for the purposes of this clause, you are authorised to disclose information to a particular person, or whether any information is confidential information, or whether any use of information is authorised, you are obliged to obtain and abide by a written decision of the Company in this regard.
